

PERSONAL EMERGENCY RESPONSE SYSTEMS (PERS)

A PERS, also called a Personal Response System (PRS), Emergency Response System(ERS), or medical signaling device is an answer to the need for both security and independence. It is a simple way to call for help from a friend, relative or emergency services (police, fire department or ambulance). If a user needs help, he simply presses a button, which sends a message into an emergency response center. Information about his medical history and names and phone numbers of contact people are quickly available. The emergency response center will talk with the user to determine the reason they were contacted, and will respond appropriately. Companies who sell this product are listed under “Medical Alarms” in the yellow pages of the phone book.
